DEDICATION

This yearbook is dedicated to those whose ideas, plans, and labor culminated in the edifice which we now attend.

Vulcan County students and citizens are proud of the attractive, adequate school located in town. Many hours of planning and much hard work on the part of various groups and individuals have gone toward achieving the present building.

Centralization began in 1960 when all Grade XII students were vanned from the County area west of Lake McGregor. Since 1963, Grade X and XI students from the same area have come to this central point. These two innovations earmarked the changeover.

In the spring of 1963 Dr. T. C. Bryne, chief superintendent of schools for Alberta, brought to the attention of the proper authorities the possibility of Federal aid for a vocational school in Vulcan. Briefs were prepared regarding the need for such a centre. These in turn were submitted to the Education Committee, the Department of Education and Mr. J. P. Mitchell, head of vocational education in Alberta.

Mr. J. Stevenson was engaged as the architect and after much drafting and thought the blueprints went to Edmonton for approval. Upon their endorsement, Bennett and White received the building contract.

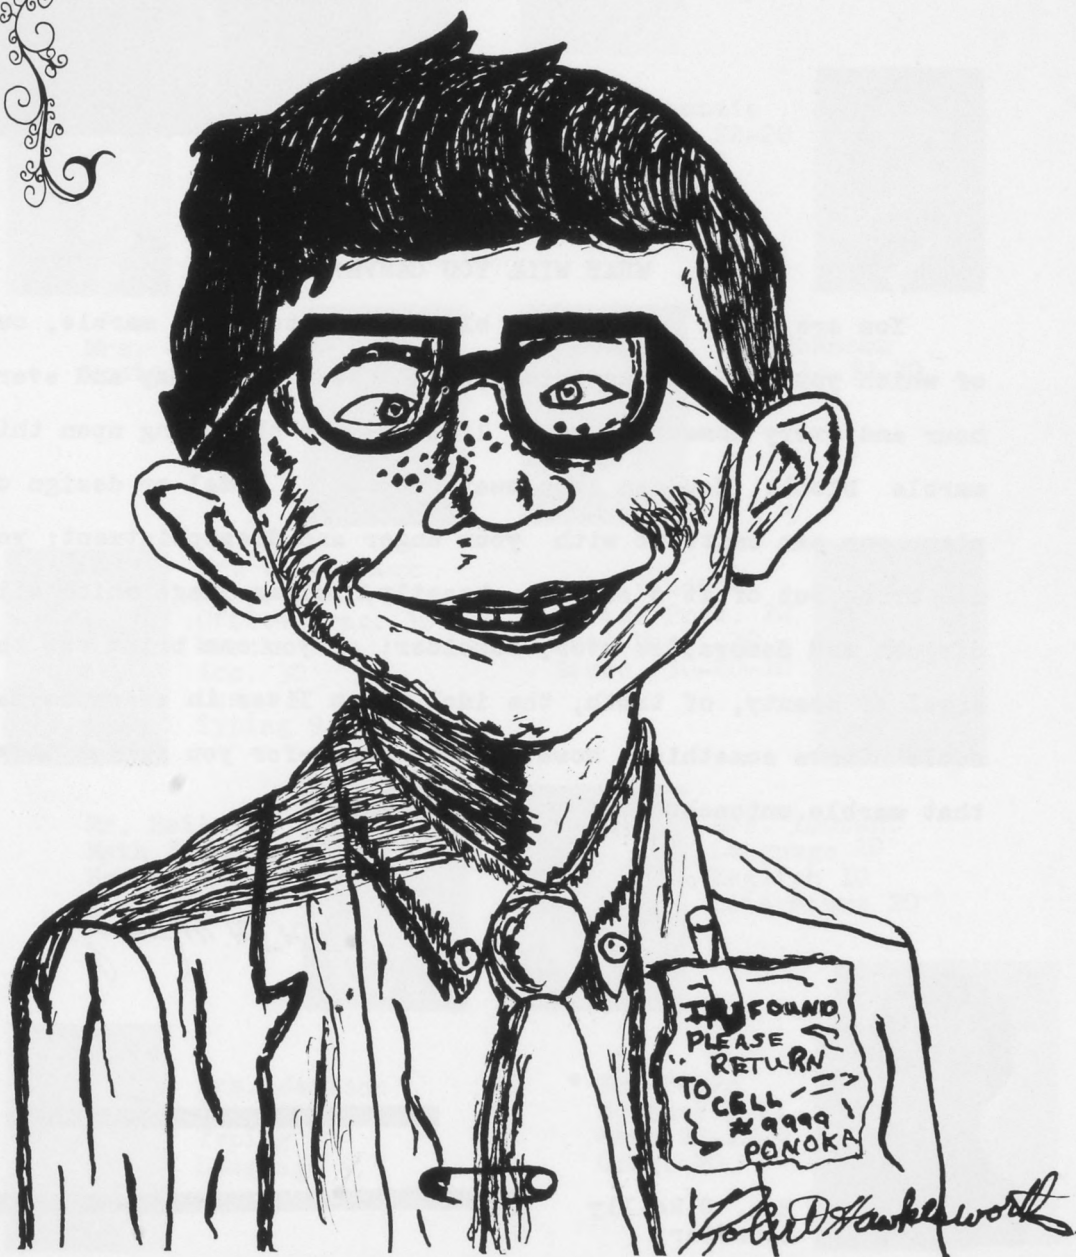

The official opening of the vocational wing was held February 3, 1965 with the Hon. R. H. McKinnon, Minister of Education, guest speaker. The benefits the students are now obtaining are evident to those who have daily contact with the school. A varied educational program is at this time available to meet the educational needs of all the children of all the people. The future holds unlimited possibilities inasmuch as adult classes are already in operation.

The dream of those who envisioned this educational centre as a nucleus of learning has been realized. May it continue to thrive and serve the community.

MESSAGE

WHAT WILL YOU CARVE?

You are given at birth a block of untouched marble, out of which you may make anything you choose. Every day and every hour and every moment of your life you are chiseling upon this marble block. You can chop away without a model or design or plan; you can smite it with your anger and disappointment; you can bring out of it a satanic, beastly, vulgar image which will disgust and demoralize every beholder; or you can bring out the angel of beauty, of truth, the idol which lives in every normal soul. Carve something however, you must—for you cannot leave that marble untouched.

Sincerely,

H. H. Mumby

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

It has been both an honor and a privilege to act as Student's Union President this past year. This year, as others, has brought many new endeavours and experiences upon us. The opening of our Vocational Wing and the coming of the Junior High to C.C.H.S. were pleasant experiences. Our new endeavours included the adoption of an orphan child in India, the full payment of most athletic enterprises, the setting up of a scholarship fund, and a Queen contest.

I would like to thank my executive for their cooperation and hard work and also the students for their cooperation. I would like to wish the graduates success in every way possible and to those aspiring toward graduation-the best of luck.

Doug Munton

COUNCILOR'S MESSAGE

Mr. Brown

1964-65 will be remembered as the year the C.C.H.S. Scholarship Fund was set up. Your sincere desire to recognize academic prowess could not have been realized in a more worthy manner. At the Graduation Exercises next September, nearly five hundred students shall enjoy a feeling of extreme satisfaction as the first two scholarships are presented to the academic giants of our graduating class. Congratulations and best wishes.

GRADUATION

Graduation, the final high school function for the class of '64 and the reward for many hours of work, took place on Friday, September 18.

Following a banquet for the graduates and their parents, a crowded auditorium stood as the members honored class filed into their places before the stage. Rev. Cowell gave the invocation after which Mr. Cartwright introduced the teachers who gave out 53 "A" awards recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement.

In presenting diplomas to the graduates, County School Committee Chairman, J. M. McKay, complimented the graduates on their exceptional marks.

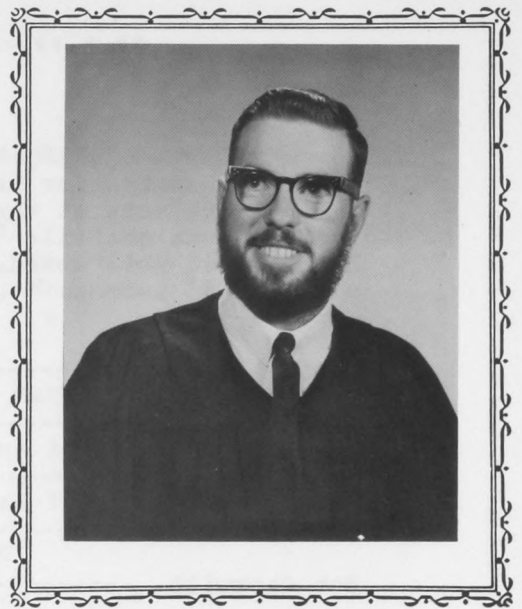

Class valedictorian, Clarence Graff, expressed the thanks of his classmates, to teachers, and parents for their faith, interest, and encouragement through the years.

Singled out for special honors were the five winners of academic shields. Rev. Dormer of the Vulcan United Church very ably stepped into the breach left by the sudden illness of the Rt. Rev. Calvert, Bishop of the Calgary Anglican Diocese. Rev. Dormer urged his student listeners to believe in their work and take pride in it, not only in money earned but in the good done and the service given. He warned the students not to be afraid or become depressed at making mistakes. In closing he told them, "You must go out in the world putting your faith and trust in one greater than yourselves." The evening was brought to a close by a dance in honor of the graduates.

VALEDICTORIAN

The dictionary defines a valedictorian as one who gives the farewell address. It is my honor and privilege to be chosen as valedictorian and to be able to speak on behalf of my 48 fellow students as we all say good-bye to each other; to our parents and to our teachers. Not only adieus but also thank-yous are said for the faith, interest and encouragement given to all of us during our years of grade and high school.

In August, after receiving our marks and finding out whether we made the grade or not, most of us began wondering exactly what the past twelve years had given us. We had started our education at the tender age of 6 or 7 in our own home-town schools and continued to receive our education there until we were in grade eleven when the high school of Carmangay, Champion, Vulcan, Brant-Ensign, Mossleigh, and Arrowwood were amalgamated to form the County Central High School. Thus, we became charter members of an experiment in consolidation. After two years of excellent tutorship at County Central, the government of Alberta said we were qualified to graduate from grade twelve. These twelve years, the best of our lives, have allowed us to mature and gain enough knowledge so that we feel qualified to at least face the world of adults.

We have, I hope, gained the qualities of truth, honor, service, loyalty, integrity, knowledge, sacrifice, citizenship, sportsmanship, fair play, achievement and dependability.

The grade twelve diploma, we know, is not the automatic key to success and so we are now fearing the responsibility of earning our own way and regretting the security which school afforded. However, we know and we use this knowledge as we step into our new positions in life.

With automation occurring in every phase of life, people start wondering whether the graduate is another assembly line production. Let me assure you that this year's grade twelve class is as unstandardized as it can possibly be. Although we all went to the same classes, heard the same lessons taught, and passed the same tests; each one of us heard something different and reacted differently to each new idea. Not only are we mentally different but also physically. In stature we range from 6' 2", 240 lbs. to the pettiness of those in the 5 foot class. Thus, I can justly say that the graduating class consists of 48 individuals.

In closing I'd like to say once more, thank-you and good-bye. Also to the students in grade twelve this year and to those who are taking their second year of grade twelve--good luck and keep trying.

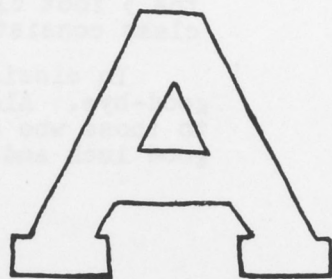

Thank-you

OUR QUEEN

On February 26, 1965, the night of the Valentine dance, the gymnasium was decorated in red and white, with a wishing well complimenting the snow queen's theme. Three girls, representing each grade, were the candidates for the C.C.H.S. Queen contest. Each girl was chosen on scholastic ability, poise, votes, activities and beauty. Each candidate was thoroughly interviewed by a panel of judges consisting of Mrs. McAskile, Mrs. Jamison, and Mr. Jopling. After a short ceremony, Miss Susie Robertson, the grade twelve representative, was crowned "Snow Queen". Doug Munton, our Student's Union president, placed the rhinestone tiara on the pretty queen. Then Beth Wilson presented her with a beautiful bouquet of red, long-stemmed roses. Photographs of the memorable evening were taken by Mr. Pickersgill. The local establishments were thanked for the lovely gifts donated.

Bud's special talent seems to be in the field of art, a fact shown in the numerous posters which he has created. He says that this interest may lead to a career in architecture. ## DRAMATICS

The first Drama Night, January 28, found four one-act plays being presented. Two plays by Drama 8, "The Grammatical Family" and "Ring Around the Rosie" were directed by Mr. Whitehead. The other two plays "Julius Ceasar" and "A Certain Just Man" were by Drama 10 and 20.

Two three-act plays were produced later on in the term. "Huckleberry Finn", directed by Mr. Mumby, was out on in Vulcan; "Toby Helps Out" by myself, was put on in Brant.

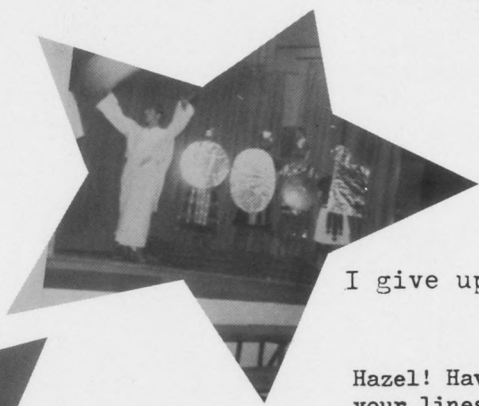

March 20 found the cast of "A Certain Just Man" in Taber for the annual Southern Alberta Drama Festival.

Everyone, I am sure, has enjoyed Drama this year, especially the make-up part. All in all it has been a dramatically successful year.

STUDENT UNION ATHLETIC COMMITTEE REPORT

In the field of sports C.C.H.S. has done very well.

The football team won three games losing only one while the Senior Boy's Basketball team won the South Central tournament to allow them to compete in the Provincials.

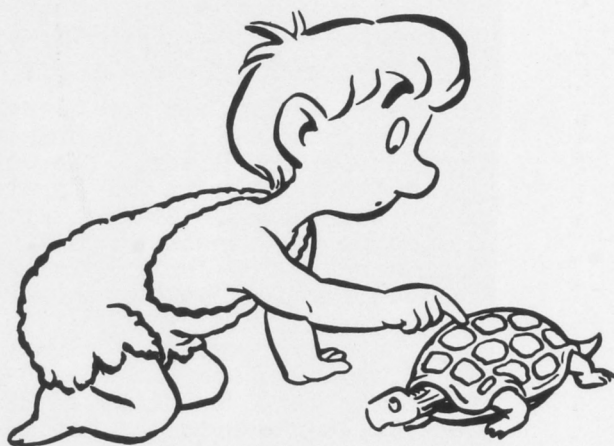

The team, under the coach Mr. MacFarlane, were unable to obtain an entry form for these playdowns. The Senior Girls won the C.C.H.S. tournament but lost the South Central to High River. The County League boys came close to upsetting Milo in the County tournament under the direction of Mr. Whitehead. Mr. Bailey's Junior Boys suffered no losses in the season, thus winning the County and South Central tournament. The Junior Girls under Mr. MacFarlane won the league playdown however they lost the County tournament to Carmangay.

Saturday curling was very successful under the direction of Mr. Johnson and the President Eugene Carruthers. The Briar team was defeated by Drumheller in the South Central Playdowns after making a very good showing.

In Badminton C.C.H.S. won 1/3 of the events at the South Central playoffs at Olds. The Juniors made a good showing at Strathmore.
